

HERITAGE RAIL TRAIL YORK COUNTY

The Heritage Rail Trail County Park in southern York County has been designated as the 2015 Trail of the Year by the Pennsylvania Trails Advisory Committee. Established in 1992, the 21-mile rail trail is designed for hiking, bicycling, running, horseback riding, cross-country skiing, and snow shoeing. The trail connects the historic district of downtown York to Maryland's Torrey C. Brown Trail to create a continuous 43-mile trail that includes seven railroad structures on the National Register of Historic Places and an operating tourism train. Visitation exceeds 300,000 annually. https://yorkcountypa.gov/parks-recreation/the-parks/heritage-rail-trail-park.html • http://www.yorkcountytrails.org/
