

Trail OF THE Year 2017

MONTOUR TRAIL

The 63-mile Montour Trail system occupies the right of way of the former Montour Railroad and Peters Creek Branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad between Coraopolis and Clairton in suburban Pittsburgh, making it one of the nation's longest non-motorized suburban rail-trails. The trail connects with Pittsburgh International Airport, the Panhandle Trail, and the Great Allegheny Passage that stretches over 330 miles from Pittsburgh to Washington, D.C. The Montour Trail Council, formed in 1989 to manage the trail, has implemented best practices to provide a consistently high-quality experience for users while relying fully on volunteer leadership.
